Manage Your People from a Distance

- Set regular push notification reminders about hygiene tips and best practices for your drivers
- Monitor employee health remotely via driver health checklists and track responses
- Minimize the risk of unwell employees infecting others by acting quickly

❞ We've been looking constantly at ways we can improve the things that our drivers do, the things that we do, so that we get better information, quick information, and we can respond to it. By using Whip Around, what we're able to do is collect the data that we need and respond to that. We can keep track of all the inspections without shutting a truck down. Before Whip Around, it was very unproductive and a lot of waste of time just gathering information.
