

If you know anything about trucking, you know about Omnitracs. When RMJ Tech was approached by Omnitracs to join their team of Value Added Resellers, it was a no-brainer because they are the innovators in the space and the one company that worked with all of the major trucking transportation companies in the country. After 25 years in the industry as a proven leader, even today the quality of the product is one of the best in the business.
